

Pat Rose, Education Program Coordinator

Pat received her undergraduate and graduate degrees from Lakehead University while working with the Lakehead District School Board as a teacher and school administrator.

She joined the Ontario Ministry of Education in 2000 as an Education Officer in the Thunder Bay Regional Office where she held portfolios in curriculum, parent engagement and assessment and evaluation. She worked with First Nation schools, provincially-funded school boards, and international schools in China and the Caribbean to support student achievement in both the elementary and secondary panels.

As of August 2012, Pat was appointed the Education Program Co-ordinator for the Martin Aboriginal Education Initiative. In this role she will focus her support on Aboriginal student achievement through MAEI's various strategies and activities.
